M00000111
Multifunction tool, 721, Ripley Miller

Description

This compact and lightweight multipurpose tool from Ripley Miller is suitable for stripping, cutting, and pulling cables. The padded handles provide comfort, and an automatic spring return reduces hand strain. All cutting edges are precision-formed, hardened, and ground to ensure a clean and accurate strip every time. The metal construction features a black oxide coating to prevent corrosion. The handle's locking mechanism keeps the blades closed when storing the tool, ensuring safety and preventing blade wear.
